FRAIS

Frais is back at Natural Mommie, thankfully just in time for flu season!! Just as a little recap here's some info about this great Australian company. Frais creates eco-friendly, luxurious and aromatherapeutic, all natural, vegan hand sanitizer that kills 99.9% of germs without the traditional chemicals found in other hand sanitizers. Frais' high grade sugarcane alcohol and moisturizing essential oils make it possible to stay safe from germs throughout the day without drying the hands from using chemicals and it is completely plant based!

We're in the middle of the lovely H1N1 pandemic so I have bottles of hand sanitizer peeking out of every nook and cranny, pocket, glove box and purse. With regular hand sanitizers, I always feel conflicted when I use them on my toddler. I mean, I have to keep his hands germ free, but part of me always wonders if I'm doing more bad than good by using sanitizer. Luckily Frais is free of artificial ingredients, the scent is lovely and not overwhelming in the least, and it truly is moisturizing so I have no worries about using it with my son.

The beautiful packaging (pretty packaging for hand sanitizer? that's a first!) is recyclable and looks more like a fancy bottle of lotion than anything else. It's no wonder Frais is getting all sorts press about being a "sexy sanitizer"!

For review, I picked out what I find most practical to have this holiday season: the Frais Holiday Gift Set. As a gift, it's perfect for travelers and anyone frequently on the go. The size was designed to slip into a standard ziplock bag to pass through airport security which is why I'm pleased to have this with me for when I fly in 3 weeks. The set includes fourteen 6ml units that I would estimate you get about 15 or more uses out of each. My husband keeps them in his jacket and loves them. The elegant and uplifting scent is made up of eight natural essential oils that includes Ginger, Tangerine, Lemon Myrtle, Niaouli, Orange, Basil, Grapefruit and Cardamom.

Natural Mommies, if you haven't tried it yet, definitely put this naturally moisturizing, eco-friendly hand sanitizer on your list of must haves! There's a reason why celebs like Carrie Underwood, Kelly Ripa, America Ferrera, and Britney Spears are all fans! And how's this for an idea to keep friends and family members germ free! for the holidays - buy this gift set and attach one to each of their presents under the tree!

- First comment? Grumble! I want #1 to win, it happens you know.... =)
- I like that Frais uses natural ingredients - especially, like you, I'm torn about using sanitizers on my toddlers hands - especially when she's always putting them in her mouth! Also like that Frais is certified cruelty free.
- What a great giveaway, I wanna win this one, the germophobe in me is all over this!
