

Vegan Beauty Review

Want to find out more about all the amazing, wonderful vegan beauty products that are 100% cruelty-free and free of nasty chemicals and preservatives? Here you'll find reviews and recommendations & suggestions for that perfect vegan beauty product.

Sunny
Subramanian

See? Vegan beauty products can put a smile on your face too!

A lil' about me...

I've been vegan since 2000 and I owe it all to my furry felines at home: Towane, Spirulina, Kaduki and Conan. The reason I'm vegan is because I love animals and would never want to contribute to the pain and suffering of any living being. I'm a member of the LA based animal rights group The Vegan Vixens.

I'm trying to help break the stereotype that all vegans are stinky, hairy earth babies. I want the world to know that you can be vegan and still be uber girly and relish new and exciting beauty products that are vegan, cruelty-free and free of nasty chemicals and preservatives. If you would like to have your vegan product reviewed on www.veganbeautyreview.com, please e-mail me at sunbundelicious@yahoo.com

Vegan Beauty Review

Germies be gone!

Did somebody say soufflé?

Fall in love with Exuberance all over again!

We're all nuts over shea!
Time to rock the unfur tote!

Vegan Beauty Review extends itself to fashion...

Vegan Fashions Galore

A few things to avoid when

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 29, 2008

Germies be gone!

Hand sanitizers are great for when you're traveling, eating on-the-go, using port-a-loos, you name it. I've come across an amazingly luxurious, vegan, eco-friendly hand sanitizer that kills 99.9% of all germs, smells amazing and fits in your pocket.

Frais Hand Sanitizer contains an alcohol concentration of 66% pure sugarcane and it has a natural blend of essential oils that help moisturize your skin so it stays soft and smooth. Frais' sugarcane alcohol uses up to 10 % less energy than typical corn alcohol so it's more environmental. And hey, I'm a fan of anything made from sugar. ;)

For a hand sanitizer, it smells absolutely remarkable. It has essential oils of ginger, tangerine, lemon myrtle, niaouli, orange, basil, grapefruit and cardamom. Compare those to ingredients in conventional supermarket hand sanitizers (isopropyl alcohol, carbomer, tocopheryl acetate, ec) - yuck, no thank you. I'll take Frais, please!

Each purchase of Frais Hand Sanitizer supports Just A Drop, an international charity that provides clean water for the developing world. I love promoting companies that give back. It's a win-win for consumers. You're helping other people while helping yourself.

Frais comes in various sizes for all of your everyday needs:

Frais Pocket ($3.50): portable, pocket-sized (0.2 fl.oz.), great for your purse or glove compartment

Frais Everyday ($7): mid-sized (1.7 fl. oz), give one to a friend and keep one for yourself

Frais Gift ($33): 14 mini units, great for business people and travelers

Frais Spa ($29): a gigantor sized bottle, great for the home, office or gym

Frais Travel ($112): great for companies who want to share this gem of a product with their customers (i.e. at spas, bars, salons, etc.)

For more info: Frais

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 22, 2008

Did somebody say soufflé?

Nurturing Beauty was founded by